Structural expertise is held in the following business sectors – Residential, Industrial and Commercial, Retail and Business Parks, Sports, Leisure and Hotel Facilities, Hospital and Health Care, Office Accommodation, Schools and Universities, Government and Military buildings and Bridges and Transport Structures.

Our Goal

PGCS Partnership is committed to improving and where possible enhancing our quality performance. PGCS have developed and maintained a combined management system that is registered to ISO 9001, ISO 14001 and OHSAS 18001. PGCS management have developed three separate policies for Quality, Health and Safety and Environment as part of the combined management system. These policies provide the framework for setting objectives and are considered an essential part of our business. The objectives are set by senior management and shall be reviewed at the annual management review meeting. This policy shall be maintained as documented information and made available to interested parties upon request.

Our Quality Policy

PGCS Partnership is fully committed to maintaining and providing quality services to our clients. We have developed and fully implemented a Quality Management System based on the requirements of BS EN ISO 9001:2015 which provides a framework for setting quality objectives. Quality Objectives have been set and are recorded as part of the Management System. These objectives are monitored and reported on at our management review meeting to be held at least annually.

This Quality Policy is considered an essential part of our business and is part of our continual improvement process. We use induction, ongoing training and communication to all employees to ensure this policy is understood and implemented throughout the organisation.

As Managing Director I am fully committed to ensuring the implementation of this management system and therefore ensuring we continually improve the effectiveness of the management system and comply with requirements.
